

I urge you to retain the current ownership rules. These rules protect public interests, not private ones. Media consolidation will produce a dictatorship over ideas and points of view.